

Stringing you along

An interactive workshop with storyteller Kaitrin McMullan, based on string games from Aotearoa and around the world, combined with the ancient art of storytelling.

Suitable for learners of all ages and stages.

Objectives

- To teach at least 2 easy string figures with accompanying stories to all participants
- Inform participants of historical and cultural background of string games both in Aotearoa and globally
- Demonstrate use of string/story combinations and explore own story creativity
- Provide participants with information on how to access resources (electronic and hard-copy)
- To string you along, provide inspiration and have FUN!
